Pace Aerosport VFS8516TA2 8.5' x 16' Enclosed Snowmobile Trailer

The Pace American AeroSport Series is the trailer of choice when looking to improve fuel economy with an aerodynamic V-nose that also maximizes interior volume.

The combined V-nose and flat top roof design cuts through the wind better than a conventional flat front trailer and makes towing easy and safe. Unlike flat-front trailers, AeroSport adds cargo area over the frame leading to the trailer hitch, allowing for additional front space without increasing overall length.

New and Used 24' Pace Snowmobile Trailers also in stock.

Towing Tip #9 Winter Towing

Towing a trailer in the winter normally isn't much different than the rest of the year but there are a few winter specific items to keep in mind. Tires lose pressure when it is cold. Be sure tires are at the recommended pressure.

Cruise control is normally a great tool to use on the open road. However, when roads are icy or snow covered cruise control should not be used as it may contribute to a loss of control of the vehicle if throttle continues to be applied when the vehicle's drive wheels have lost traction.

All our best... during the holidays and throughout the new year!

Sincerely,

The entire staff at Primo Trailer Sales
